

Rosa Parks

• Reading Comprehension •

Activity 1 Stop and Think

Read the paragraphs.
Stop and think as you read.

The bus driver tells the black people to give up their seats. Three blacks give up their seats.

Stop and think: Why do you think the blacks give up their seats so easily?

Rosa Parks will not give up her seat. She is fed up. She does not want to be a second-class citizen. She wants the same rights as white people.

Stop and think: Have you ever been fed up with a situation? What did you do? How did things change?

“Are you going to stand up?” the bus driver asks.

“No,” Rosa Parks says.

“Well, by God, I am going to have you arrested,” the bus driver says.

“You may do that,” Rosa Parks says.

Stop and think: Imagine you are a white person on the bus. What do you think about Rosa’s situation? How do you feel about the situation? What action do you take, if any?

Good readers are active readers.

Good readers stop and think about what they are reading. Active reading helps readers understand the ideas.

Activity 2 Main Idea and Details

Good readers can find the main idea and details.

The main idea is the important idea. The details support the main idea.

The details help you understand and remember the main idea.
